Ryokucha Umeshu is made from a particular kind of prune that we can only find in the Kishu region, Wakayama. Recognized as one of the best varieties in Japan it gives a very balanced taste that ranges between sweetness, acidity and bitterness.

This liqueur is naturally flavoured with green tea, the nose is fresh and herby. It is of course to serve as an aperitif, but is also a superb digestif, reminding the Mediterranean herbaceous plant based digestive.

Lots of originality with this green tea Umeshu
