Hachimitsu Umeshu is made from a special kind of plums that are only found in the Kishu region, Wakayama Prefecture. Recognized as one of the best kinds of Japanese plum for liqueur. It gives it a very balanced flavor of sweetness, acidity and slight bitterness.

This naturally honey flavored liqueur is soft and evokes nice sweetness. To serve as an aperitif but also as a digestif because it reminds of the Mediterranean herbaceous plant based digestives.

Soft, and weetness for this honey umeshu
